

Are you craving for Sweets?

But you still have work to do

Welcome to the Bento Cake Shop! Extended working hours will never be the same with the convenience of ordering cakes right at your fingertips. Just fill up your order and you're set to choose among thousands (well, actually, only about hundreds) of different cake items. Cakes range from big, medium, and small for those who don't want to tuck in bed with a heavy stomach (or maybe just in an occasional diet).

No account yet? Signing up is as easy as blowing the candle on a cake. Put in your login information at the form to the right of this page and boom (!), you're in. From here on, you can:

- Choose a branch from a list of available stores around the metro

- Order your cake and put in precious remarks and request (no cherries please!)

- View order from your colleagues and see what they're having (for those running out of cake ideas)

Just make sure your order price considers delivery and other service charges. And also do not forget to claim the official receipt from the delivery guy. Food becomes more delicious when it's free! So what else are you waiting for? Order now!
